ACADEMIC LECTURE SERIES

Dr. Hira Panikkar Memorial Lecture

Lecture Title: "Evidence, Implementation and Sustainability of an Attachment Based Intervention of Parents of At-Risk Teens"

Learning Objectives:

- To develop an understanding of the relationship between attachment and adolescent social-emotional development and mental health problems;
- To learn about the translation of attachment theory into a parenting program (Connect) designed for broad dissemination by diverse mental health and education professionals and to review the structure and content of the program;
- To gain knowledge of the evidence for the effectiveness, implementation and sustainability of Connect in Canada and Sweden.
- To reflect on the fact that when programs are developed or adopted from elsewhere it is essential to begin with careful consideration of broad dissemination and sustainability to assess viability and cost-effectiveness.

Speaker:
Dr. Marlene M. Moretti
CIHR Senior Research Chair
Professor, Department of Psychology
Registered Psychologist
Simon Fraser University.
